

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

CITY governments can contribute their bit to the war against gangsters, judging from a communication Mayor R. A. Boyett received Friday. The mayor's attention was called to the action of the city council of Los Angeles in requiring the registration of all former convicts.

Lockesburg Team, Unbeaten, to Play Hope Friday Night

Tommy Rhea, Track Star, Is Visitors' Main Threat

GAME CALLED 7:30

Locals Expect Victory in Fourth Game of Season

Stopping Tommy Rhea, 139-pound shifty ball carrier and high-point man in the Southwest Arkansas district track meet last year, will be one of the Bobcats' biggest jobs in conquering Lockesburg High School here Friday night—that is, if Rhea lives up to his reputation.

Rhea, who walked away with most of the sprints and dashes in the track meet, is a veteran football player and the main scoring threat in the Lockesburg backfield. Last year he returned three kickoffs to touchdowns, two against DeQueen and one against Horatio.

Coach J. R. (Rumbo) Dale, former schoolmate of Coach Teddy Jones, predicts his 160-pound team will give the Bobcats "more than they are looking for."

Lockesburg Unbeaten

Lockesburg has undefeated this year, holding victories over Elvins and Menard, and a scoreless tie with Broken Bow, Okla.

While several of the Bobcats are suffering from injuries and will not be at their best, Hope fans and supporters are hoping for a victory in the fourth game of the season for the locals.

Coach Jones has sent his men through long practice sessions this week. Much time has been given to blocking, a tangible weakness which was outstanding in the game here with Lewisville last week, although the Lafayette county team was smothered by a large score.

Although suffering with a badly bruised hip, Drake has been named on the starting line. Houston has a bad ankle and a charley-horse. Harper, Matheson, Hargis and Urban are handicapped by minor injuries.

A shift has been perfected in the line. Brownfield, regular tackle, has been moved to left guard to bolster a greater defensive strength. Drake, who has seen little service this year, will start at left tackle. He has been hard pushed for the position by Brown, hefty 180-pound lineman who is making his first attempt to play football this year.

Fincher, Pollard and Turner, have snapped out of the early season lull and have been given serious consideration as linemen by Coach Jones.

The Bobcat backfield of Brown, Turner, Harper and Hargis remains intact, with Cargile, Matheson, Purdie, Spears, Keith, Wallace and Harmon in reserve.

Game at 7:30

The game will be called promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

The probable line-ups:

Hope	Lockesburg
Urban	Elkins
Drake	Left end
Broomfield	Left tackle
Holley	Left guard
Mitchell	Center
Houston	Right guard
Anderson	Right tackle
Brown	Right end
J. Turner	Quarterback
Harper	Left half
Hargis	Right half
	Fullback

Officials: Methvin (V. M. I.) referee; Dale Jones (Henderson) umpire; O'Neal (Hendrix) head linesman; W. Cook (Henderson) field judge.

Bomb Suspected in Plane Tragedy

Believe Time-Bomb Was Planted in Big Air Liner

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Stains which investigators believe might have been caused by a time-bomb were found Friday in the wreckage of the air transport liner that crashed in the Indiana sand-dune country Tuesday night, killing seven persons.

Clippings sent to Mayor Boyett showed that:

"In Los Angeles and the county unincorporated territory, which has nearly 2 million residents, all persons with criminal records must register within 48 hours after arrival. They must file their pictures, fingerprints, and give their present occupations. Those who fail face a six months' jail term if apprehended."

Sporadic crime cannot be prevented, but the authorities can put a crimp into the activities of old offenders. It is from this class that our organized crime waves flow.

X X X

Over in the Delta country the Memphis Commercial Appeal has brought a storm of abuse upon its head by attacking the government's program to still further reduce cotton acreage next year.

"Farmers," says the Commercial Appeal, "are beginning to wonder why it is that in return for every proposed benefit received from the government they are required to make a sacrifice to or greater than the benefit received."

To which the West Point (Miss.) Times Leader, edited by Edgar G. Harris, dean of Mississippi newspaper men, makes the reply:

"This stand on the part of a great newspaper, published in the heart of the cotton belt and depending largely on the success of the cotton grower for its existence, is as surprising as it is mendacious and unfortunate. The Southern cotton grower is only asked to save himself, and to do as a part of a great constructive governmental program the things which he has failed or refused to do voluntarily."

X X X

I believe most of our readers will agree that the Commercial Appeal has made a radical, destructive attack.

We are between two fires in this great emergency.

On the one hand the radical farm leaders, assisted by demagogic politicians, are demanding that cotton be put up to 20 cents regardless what happens to the rest of the country—and regardless of the fact that if we price cotton too high we won't sell it at all.

On the other hand there are some people, impatient of the whole government program, who think the government should withdraw all of its emergency aid measures—and let the panic get well by itself. The Commercial Appeal apparently takes this view.

The farmer can judge for himself whether he has had good results from this year's reduction program. The general opinion is that he has.

J. H. Kent to Leave on Big Bear Hunt

Hempstead Man to Rocky Mountains Sunday for Three Weeks

J. H. Kent, well known farmer and county citizen, will leave Sunday for a bear-hunt in the Rocky Mountains.

Mr. Kent will go first to Los Angeles, where he is to visit briefly with his daughter Mrs. Verdo Middlebrooks, doubling back then to Las Vegas, Nev., scene of the bear-hunt.

There he will join a brother and three other men on an expedition which he expects to keep him away from home until November 5.

Mr. Kent said his brother wrote him, "Don't bring nothing 'cept your clothes—and if you can get out here without them it's all right with us."

Dance Friday Night

A dance will be held Friday night at the skating rink, starting at 10 o'clock. Harry Shiver announced at noon. Music will be furnished by the Blue Moon orchestra, a 12-piece local organization.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Musical powder boxes tone up the complexion.

Harry J. Lemley Named Alternate for Vets' Review

Hope Attorney Appointed to Special Board for This State

OUTLINED BY HINES

Veterans Administrator Describes Operation of Claims' Review

Harry J. Lemley, Hope attorney and former member of the Highway Audit Commission, Thursday received appointment as an alternate member of the special board of review in the Veterans Administration for Arkansas, in a letter from Administrator Frank T. Hines at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Lemley notified Mr. Hines of his acceptance.

In his letter to Mr. Lemley, Administrator Hines wrote in part:

"As I conceive it, every citizen owes to his government the duty of serving in times of great emergencies, whether during war or peace. I hold it the sacred obligation of the government to care for those who were disabled in the service of their country, and under the regulations which have been issued by the president in accordance with the provisions of Public No. 2, 73d. congress, an honest effort has been made to provide adequately for them."

"The claims which you will be called upon to review are those of veterans whose conditions have heretofore been recognized, as having arisen out of the performance of military or naval duty by reason of certain statutory enactments which made it unnecessary for them to submit evidence proving the service origin of their condition."

"Under the provisions of the regulations promulgated by the president, in order to be entitled to a pension for service connected disability, World War veterans must show that their condition was contracted or aggravated in line of duty in the active military or naval service and not have resulted from their own misconduct."

"These regulations recognize, if the veteran served for a period of 90 days or more, that as to certain chronic diseases, a list of which is being furnished you, which arose within a reasonable period following service, that they might be due to service. With 90 days or more service there is also a rebuttal presumption of soundness at enlistment. Beyond this, as a matter of principle, we cannot go and be on sound ground."

"Realizing that a large group of veterans had heretofore been afforded a presumption of service connections for their conditions who could not qualify under these regulations, it was proposed to protect the former rights of these veterans by permitting the service connections to stand, notwithstanding that the presumption formerly provided by law authorized service connection for specified diseases arising approximately six years after discharge."

(Continued on Page Three)

3 Leaders of Vanishing Gangs Still Cheat Doom

The mighty hand of the law is outstretched... reaching into every corner of the nation in its search. . . . Desperado after desperado comes into its clutch. . . . But three notorious outlaws still evade it. . . . and the hunt goes on relentlessly for Wilbur Underhill, left below; "Pretty Boy" Floyd, center; and Verne Miller, right.

Audit Position Is Refused by McRae

First of Second List of Appointees Also Declines to Serve

PRESCOTT, Ark.—(AP)—T. C. McRae, of Prescott, Friday informed Governor Futrell he would be unable to accept appointment as a member of the Highway Audit Commission.

The chief executive said he probably would name a new appointee Saturday.

The other two appointees, Col. John R. Fordyce, Little Rock, and Homer Sloan, Jonesboro, have indicated they would accept.

Mr. McRae, Col. Fordyce and Mr. Sloan were named by the governor after Harry J. Lemley, Hope, and two other former members of the Highway Audit Commission had rejected appointment to the revived commission on the grounds that the $20,000 appropriation allowed was insufficient to complete the work properly.

Floyd, Underhill and Miller Defy Capture

Long Arm of Law Which Got Others Is Reaching for Them, However

This is the last of a series of stories on how the determined drive of the federal government has put "crime on the run."

By ROBERT TALLEY
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

The long arm of the law that brought Harvey Bailey and George (Machine Gun) Kelly to justice still gropes for three equally desperate men, each with a price on his head.

Remaining targets in the relentless search are a "phantom bandit" who boasts that he has robbed only the rich and given to the poor; a former sheriff who turned outlaw; and a wholesale killer, with eight murders on his record.

Wanted for Massacre

Authorities throughout the southwest want this trio for many daring bank robberies and other crimes. Uncle Sam wants them for alleged complicity in the Kansas City Union station massacre, in which a federal officer was slain. They are:

CHARLES (PRETTY BOY) FLOYD—Bank robber, killer, and "phantom terror of the southwest," suspected of complicity in the Kansas City mass murder of four officers and a prisoner.

VERNE C. MILLER—Former sheriff at Huron, S. D., definitely identified, according to the government, as one of the two men who operated the machine guns in this crime; Bailey was the other one.

WILBUR UNDERHILL—A leader, with Bailey, in the daring break of eleven desperate convicts from the Kansas state penitentiary last Memorial Day; indicted in the Kansas City massacre.

There are many others of course, but these three desperados are the biggest remaining prizes in the federal government's war on crime.

Exploits Rival Fiction

Most famed as a criminal is "Pretty Boy" Floyd, whose lurid career can find its equal only in fiction. Accused in thirty bank robberies and a half dozen murders, Floyd still emerges from his hiding place in the "bad lands" of Oklahoma for an occasional foray against another bank.

Unlike others, Floyd does not kill wantonly; a number of men have been killed in attempts to capture him, but only when he was cornered and had to shoot his way to liberty. Once he kidnapped a sheriff as a shield against a posse's bullets, drove him several hundred miles, and released him with an apology.

Bloodshed Averted

Just a few weeks ago, Floyd and several members of his band were eating in a restaurant in a small Oklahoma town, machine guns at their sides, when a couple of officers

Bulletins

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will address the nation for seven minutes at 9 o'clock Central Standard Time Friday night from the White House on an unannounced subject.

GENEVA, Switzerland.—(AP)—A German spokesman Friday said any attempt to haul up Germany and ask her to sign on the dotted line of a disarmament decision imposed by the others, will be followed by the withdrawal of the Germans from the conference and perhaps from the League of Nations.

NEWPORT, Ark.—(AP)—Mrs. William Williamson was exonerated by a coroner's verdict Friday in the slaying late Thursday of her husband, a farmer, which she said ended several years of unhappy married life.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—(AP)—A verdict of $100,000 against Henry Ford was awarded by a jury Friday in suits involving Ford and the Sweeten Automobile company of this city.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A boycott was declared by the American Federation of Labor convention Friday against goods and services supplied by Germany, Italy, Russia, China and any other country which forbids free trade unionization.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—(AP)—Guarded by eight heavily-armed federal agents George (Machine Gun) Kelly was put aboard a special railroad coach here Friday for Leavenworth.

Charley Frazier Seized by Posse

Officers Recapture Louisiana Convict Near Texarkana

TEXARKANA.—(AP)—Charley Frazier, escaped convict from the Louisiana penitentiary, was captured near Boxholder, near here, Friday.

Another man escaped. Frazier dropped his gun after a posse fired twice.

The posse, comprised of officers from several counties, which had been trailing him closely for 24 hours, caught up with him at the home of R. W. Peck.

With an unidentified woman, Frazier was taken to Clarksville, Texas. The man who escaped is believed to be named Carleton.

Earlier in the day Frazier and another man held up two Red river county farmers and commandeered their automobile, leaving it behind, however, when it broke down with officers hot in pursuit.

Agreement Nears for Steel, Mines

Industrial Peace Expected as Check-Off Is Allowed

By the Associated Press

Promise of an accord between workers and their employers in western Pennsylvania coal mines operated by steel companies cast a note of optimism Thursday night in strikes that disrupted industries as widely varying as cotton picking and tool making.

The steel manufacturers announced workers in their coal mines would be placed under the check-off system demanded by the unions with qualification. Union dues would be deducted from the pay envelopes of employees. The operators had rejected union recognition previously and the agreement was seen as a victory for the unions.

The number of strikers in California passed 25,000 as 7,000 Los Angeles garment workers walked out charging that they were paid as little as $3 weekly. They declared employers had signed the president's reemployment agreement calling for $15 a week.

Cotton pickers, sardine canners, and workers in tomato and lettuce fields also were idle.

Huge Tax-Dodging Admitted in Probe

Dillon-Read Co. Member Tells of Setting Up Dummy Company

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A member of Dillon, Read & Co., James V. Forrester, banker, told the senate investigating committee Friday that he paid no income tax in 1929 on a stock profit of $664,000 by means of setting up a personal company in Canada.

Man Arrested as Hope Teller Finds Cheques Are Stolen

Citizens National Scene of Wild Chase at 1:30 P. M. Friday

MARTIN GETS HIM

Ched Hall Stops Payment—Martin Captures Man With Pistol

An attempt to cash several traveler cheques, stolen in recent bank holdups, was frustrated here Friday afternoon by an alert assistant bank cashier, resulting in the quick arrest of a man who gave his name as Howard Adams.

Entering the Citizens National Bank at 1:30 o'clock, a stocky, heavy-built man whose age appeared to be around 40, poked the "hot" cheques, at Ched Hall, assistant cashier, and asked that they be cashed.

Noticing that the stranger appeared nervous, Mr. Hall suspected something was wrong. Taking the cheques, which amounted to $20, Mr. Hall compared the serial numbers with a circular letter sent out by the American Express company.

Finding that the numbers tallied with stolen express company money, Mr. Hall told Adams that he would not cash them as they were listed as "stolen."

Convention at Bank

"How do you get that way?" snapped Adams.

"I don't," but the American Express company does," Mr. Hall shot back. "Where did you get these cheques?"

"I bought them in Texarkana—from the express agent over there," Adams retorted.

"Wait just a minute and I will phone Texarkana," was Mr. Hall's reply. "As he started for a phone Adams demanded the cheques, saying that he would be back in a few minutes. Hall refused to return them."

With this, Adams rushed from the bank.

Garnet Martin, bookkeeper at "O. B. Bank," had overheard the conversation and in the meantime went to the vault and armed himself with a pistol.

May Is Caught

As Adams made his exit Martin hurriedly gave chase, overtaking him across the street near L. C. Burr's apartment store.

Grappling with Adams the two scuffled on the sidewalk. C. C. Spigars, cashier, rushed from the bank and the two soon overpowered Adams. Officers were called and he was taken to the city jail.

A waiting automobile, occupied by a woman and another companion, sped away as Martin scuffled with the fleeing man.

The First National Bank, which cashed several traveler cheques during the morning, was checking up Friday afternoon to ascertain what any of the stolen money had been accepted.

Officers immediately wired the express company in an effort to trace the loot.

Markets Hope Cotton Exchange

New York Cotton
Open	High	Low	Close
Dec.	8.40	9.41	9.18	20
March	9.65	9.66	9.40	82

Down 22 points from previous close.
New Orleans Cotton
Dec.	9.38	9.39	9.12	13
March	9.62	9.62	9.36	37

Down 25 points from previous close.
Chicago Grain
Wheat—
Dec.	81.4	82.4	78.7	78.7
May	85	86.6	82.7	82.7

Corn—
Dec.	41.7	42.2	39.2	39.6
May	48.4	49	48.4	48.50

Outs—
Dec.	32.7	33.1	30.3	30.3
May	36.4	36.5	34	34

Closing Stock Quotations
American Can	90
American Smelter	38 3/4

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by the Star Publishing Co., Inc.
C. E. Palmer, President
ALEX. H. WASHINGTON, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas
Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription Rates (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week $2; six months $12.50; one year $25.00. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to spread the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely distributed advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide.—Col. R. R. McCormick.

Members of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it, or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Changes in Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers held to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

"Little Green House on K Street" Files the Blue Eagle... Teken Typists' Pledge of Nation From Stage of Whoopee to Wholesomeness... Dillon Leans on Aides in Testimony.

This column, "The New Deal in Washington," is being conducted by Willis Thornton during the vacation of Rodney Dutcher.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

©1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Value of Teaching Children to Obey

Should we do a lot of explaining when we tell a child to do something or not to do it? Should we go into details about reasons, why he should obey and why we command him?

No.

I don't give a snap of my fingers for the child who has to be harangued and coaxed before he makes up his mind to do what he's told.

Give me the boy or girl who would jump into a barrel if his parents gave the order.

Thus committing myself, I shall have to explain.

In the first place, the parent, a child, obeys the parent he trusts. I don't mean the humoring parent, either, the one who never gives an order, that will interfere with his child's pleasure. I mean the parent whom the boy or girl recognizes as having sense and judgment and he respects. A spoiled child does not have this feeling. He may obey, but this is because he knows he will never be told to do what he doesn't want to.

Necessity for Obedience

In the next place, you may be thinking, why do I say this when I have written many times about the wisdom of talking to children and explaining why such and such a thing must be done. Why do I about face now and say, "It is not for the child's obedience?"

The one is the foundation for the other. I think every human being has to have ingrained in his character the necessity of absolute obedience to something. Everyone of us is obeying one or a hundred laws every day. The sooner we learn that lesson the better.

Then and then only are we ready for and entitled to an explanation of new laws as they come along, or anything unusual that taxes our convenience.

It isn't so much the fact that a good child will obey implicitly that counts, as the state of mind that acknowledges law as it is.

Now we come to the big objection to this "unquestioning obedience" matter: that such children are cowardly, lose their spirit and self-reliance, and never make new tracks for themselves. I acknowledge this, too.

Gain Child's Confidence

It is true that the child who can't call his soul his own often turns out to be a spineless creature, or a fraidy-cat, or, if he has it in him, sometimes he becomes a rebellious outlaw altogether.

Just the same if a child is allowed to grow up obeying no law but himself, he is going to his ruin as surely as a wild colt in a barbed wire entanglement.

Parents should inculcate in every child one fundamental idea, "We must be obeyed." But at the same time they must show the child that they are reasonable, square, and human, and gain his faith, love and confidence. Also there are sure to be times when it is much the best policy to explain "why" to a child, and to show him how matters stand. I like this very much. Children are keen. They have sense. They easily see the justice of things.

But too few of our children have any real idea what the word "must" means. And no mortal on earth will have real grit or backbone until he learns it.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

©1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Don't leave your hands out of the beauty picture this winter. There simply is no excuse for allowing them to become rough and red just because the weather turns cold.

Manufacturers of household soaps know that the same hands that wash the dishes and dust the house in the morning, play bridge in the afternoon and go to dinner parties at night. Consequently, they make many brands which are bland enough not to injure the skin. At the same time they are strong enough to remove grease from dishes and dirt from clothes.

Lay in a supply of hand lotions and creams before cold weather starts. Plan to use one every time you wash your hands.

A good bleach is a necessity. Whether you use a prepared bleach, a piece

LABOR FEDERATION Solidly for Green

Convention Refuses to Expand Executive Council

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The power of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted itself fully Wednesday as the national convention swept aside a well-organized move to enlarge the executive council.

By a vote of more than two to one the nearly 600 delegates voted down the proposal of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, to "add new blood" to the ruling council by making its membership 25 instead of eight.

This test of strength followed only a few hours after the convention had voted full support for the national recovery administration, but charged its officers to work through the NRA and congress for a 20-hour work week throughout industry.

Charges of "machine rule" and a warning that the rank and file of workers were demanding increased representation in the councils of labor rang through the hall as the debate raged over the Lewis resolution.

George L. Berry, president of the Pressmen's Union, and Charles P. Howard, president of the Typograph-

FORGOTTEN SWEETHEART

MARY RAYMOND

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

the best friend I had there. His arms dropped. "Well, now, it your way then. If I were just a little drunker I wouldn't have to you."

He started the car and Joan relaxed in her seat. The engine began jerking. Jim pulled out the choker and jammed it in again. The car moved along a few feet jerkily, then came to a standstill.

"No gas, Joan," Jim said slowly. "There's nothing to do but walk to the store and get some."

"I'll go with you," she said. They walked along in silence until they reached the curve in the road.

"Hello!" said Jim. "The lights are out in the store." He turned and looked at her, at the frail white slippers she wore and groaned.

"I'm all kinds of an idiot! We'll have to walk."

"How far is it?" asked Joan.

"Nearly three miles."

"Let's start." She spoke bravely, steadily. But she was thinking miserably, "This is what coming to the store for gas will do."

"Where's that good-looking fellow?" Fred sang out.

"With Jim on the porch probably."

"Not on the porch," said Barbara. "They drove off in Jim's car an hour ago."

"Probably went to the store for cigarettes. I know those old tricks of Jim's," said Carol easily.

"Or a coca cola," suggested Charlie Ross with a laugh.

"Or an aspirin," someone else offered cynically. "Jim probably needed one. He certainly didn't need any more liquid refreshment."

Rage burned in Bob's heart. To think of Joan going off with that jug-head, letting herself in for a lot of gossip and infernal speculation!

HE went out on the porch, staring down the black stretch of road toward the neighborhood store. He looked at his watch. It was one o'clock. A half hour later he looked at his watch again.

Some of the others came out on the porch. "I can't imagine what has happened to them," Carol was saying.

"We are being very silly," said Barbara. "Nothing's happened."

"They'll be coming in presently," Enid said.

"They always do," said Charlie in his tired, wise voice.

There were steps on the drive—a white blur in the darkness. And then, as the light from the porch reached out, a dark shadow beside the white.

Joan and Jim!

They came up on the porch. The gay girl of two hours before had vanished. Joan's hair, blown by the long walk in the wind, was in disorder. There were deep, weary shadows under her eyes. Her shoulders, under the man's coat, sagged forlornly.

Jim's face showed strain, too. His hair was rumpled. His eyes were bright and feverish. Searching the faces on the porch, he said contemptuously, "A royal reception. Don't say you were really alarmed about us!"

"The gas ran out," he added slowly. And then, as no one spoke, "Now, some darn fool laugh!"

"But evidently your liquor didn't." This from Charlie.

"Comedy isn't your role," Jim said.

"Nobody but a damn idiot would drive off without enough gas in his car," said Bob.

"Lay off, will you, Weston?" said Jim dangerously.

HOPE STAR AND DAILY PRESS, HOPE, ARKANSAS

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

RAZORBACKS MEET Baylor Saturday

Arkansas Has Good Chance to Capture Conference Title

By OREN M. STEPHENS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The strong Arkansas Razorbacks will play their second conference game in Little Rock Saturday against the Baylor University Bears of Waco, Texas.

Arkansas fans who saw the Razorbacks defeat the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University 13 to 0, at Fayetteville last Saturday, believe that Arkansas has excellent chances to win the Southwest conference championship this year for the first time.

Last year the Razorbacks surprised Southwest Conference critics by defeating the Bears in the annual Bear-Back game at Little Rock. This year the Razorbacks are much stronger than they were last year, and they are going against the Bears Saturday fully confident that they will win.

Baylor was defeated last Saturday by the Centenary Gentlemen of Shreveport 19 to 0, but this does not indicate that they will be a set-up for Arkansas, since Centenary has had one of the strongest teams in the South for the past two years. Coach Fred Thomson is taking his Razorbacks to Little Rock fully prepared for one of the hardest games of the year.

The Razorbacks were rated as the underdogs in the game with Baylor. Francis A. Schmidt's Horned Frogs, conference champions last year, but after Ralph LaForge returned the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown, the Razorbacks played inspired football. At no time during the game did the Frogs threaten seriously to score. LaForge was taken from the game after his first run because Coach Thomson would take no chances against his not being able to play against Baylor this Saturday. However he went back in for a few minutes during the second half and soon broke away for a 35 yard run to score Arkansas' second touchdown.

LaForge was not the only Arkansas star in the game. The superb playing of Tom Murphy, quarterback, Jack Newby, center, and Bill Spivey, guard, was outstanding, but every man on the two teams which Thomson used, fought the Frogs all over the field.

PIGGY WIGGLY

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

Flour	48 Pound Sack	$1.65
Lard	8 Pounds—PURE	65c
Coffee	COUNTRY CLUB POUND	25c
Coffee	Pound 11c 3 Pounds	50c
MILK	THREE LARGE CANS COUNTRY CLUB	17c
BRAN FLAKES	COUNTRY CLUB—LARGE	10c
LETTUCE	FIRM HEAR—EACH	5c
OAT MEAL	COUNTRY CLUB—TWO SMALL	13c
COFFEE—Canova—lb		26c
POTATOES	RED TRIUMPH	10 lbs 25c
CABBAGE—Texas green, lb		3c
—HOPE'S MOST SANITARY MARKET—
Bologna	PARAFINE STICK POUND	10c
Oysters—pint	39c	Fish—lb 10c
STEAK	NICE AND TENDER	3 lbs 25c
SALT MEAT	BEST GRADE Cut From Side POUND	7 1/2c
CHILI—home made—lb		12 1/2c
CHEESE	Full Cream, lb...	16c
BEEF ROAST	Pound	7 1/2c
PICNIC
Hams	SUGAR CURED 6 to 8 Pound	7 1/2c
BOILED HAM—sliced thin, lb		25c
MINCE MEAT	BRANDY ADDED—Pound	17 1/2c

FORGOTTEN SWEETHEART

MARY RAYMOND

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

the best friend I had there. His arms dropped. "Well, now, it your way then. If I were just a little drunker I wouldn't have to you."

He started the car and Joan relaxed in her seat. The engine began jerking. Jim pulled out the choker and jammed it in again. The car moved along a few feet jerkily, then came to a standstill.

"No gas, Joan," Jim said slowly. "There's nothing to do but walk to the store and get some."

"I'll go with you," she said. They walked along in silence until they reached the curve in the road.

"Hello!" said Jim. "The lights are out in the store." He turned and looked at her, at the frail white slippers she wore and groaned.

"I'm all kinds of an idiot! We'll have to walk."

"How far is it?" asked Joan.

"Nearly three miles."

"Let's start." She spoke bravely, steadily. But she was thinking miserably, "This is what coming to the store for gas will do."

"Where's that good-looking fellow?" Fred sang out.

"With Jim on the porch probably."

"Not on the porch," said Barbara. "They drove off in Jim's car an hour ago."

"Probably went to the store for cigarettes. I know those old tricks of Jim's," said Carol easily.

"Or a coca cola," suggested Charlie Ross with a laugh.

"Or an aspirin," someone else offered cynically. "Jim probably needed one. He certainly didn't need any more liquid refreshment."

Rage burned in Bob's heart. To think of Joan going off with that jug-head, letting herself in for a lot of gossip and infernal speculation!

HE went out on the porch, staring down the black stretch of road toward the neighborhood store. He looked at his watch. It was one o'clock. A half hour later he looked at his watch again.

Some of the others came out on the porch. "I can't imagine what has happened to them," Carol was saying.

"We are being very silly," said Barbara. "Nothing's happened."

"They'll be coming in presently," Enid said.

"They always do," said Charlie in his tired, wise voice.

There were steps on the drive—a white blur in the darkness. And then, as the light from the porch reached out, a dark shadow beside the white.

Joan and Jim!

They came up on the porch. The gay girl of two hours before had vanished. Joan's hair, blown by the long walk in the wind, was in disorder. There were deep, weary shadows under her eyes. Her shoulders, under the man's coat, sagged forlornly.

Jim's face showed strain, too. His hair was rumpled. His eyes were bright and feverish. Searching the faces on the porch, he said contemptuously, "A royal reception. Don't say you were really alarmed about us!"

"The gas ran out," he added slowly. And then, as no one spoke, "Now, some darn fool laugh!"

"But evidently your liquor didn't." This from Charlie.

"Comedy isn't your role," Jim said.

"Nobody but a damn idiot would drive off without enough gas in his car," said Bob.

"Lay off, will you, Weston?" said Jim dangerously.

LABOR FEDERATION Solidly for Green

Convention Refuses to Expand Executive Council

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The power of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted itself fully Wednesday as the national convention swept aside a well-organized move to enlarge the executive council.

By a vote of more than two to one the nearly 600 delegates voted down the proposal of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, to "add new blood" to the ruling council by making its membership 25 instead of eight.

This test of strength followed only a few hours after the convention had voted full support for the national recovery administration, but charged its officers to work through the NRA and congress for a 20-hour work week throughout industry.

Charges of "machine rule" and a warning that the rank and file of workers were demanding increased representation in the councils of labor rang through the hall as the debate raged over the Lewis resolution.

George L. Berry, president of the Pressmen's Union, and Charles P. Howard, president of the Typograph-

HOPE STAR AND DAILY PRESS, HOPE, ARKANSAS

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

RAZORBACKS MEET Baylor Saturday

Arkansas Has Good Chance to Capture Conference Title

By OREN M. STEPHENS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The strong Arkansas Razorbacks will play their second conference game in Little Rock Saturday against the Baylor University Bears of Waco, Texas.

Arkansas fans who saw the Razorbacks defeat the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University 13 to 0, at Fayetteville last Saturday, believe that Arkansas has excellent chances to win the Southwest conference championship this year for the first time.

Last year the Razorbacks surprised Southwest Conference critics by defeating the Bears in the annual Bear-Back game at Little Rock. This year the Razorbacks are much stronger than they were last year, and they are going against the Bears Saturday fully confident that they will win.

Baylor was defeated last Saturday by the Centenary Gentlemen of Shreveport 19 to 0, but this does not indicate that they will be a set-up for Arkansas, since Centenary has had one of the strongest teams in the South for the past two years. Coach Fred Thomson is taking his Razorbacks to Little Rock fully prepared for one of the hardest games of the year.

The Razorbacks were rated as the underdogs in the game with Baylor. Francis A. Schmidt's Horned Frogs, conference champions last year, but after Ralph LaForge returned the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown, the Razorbacks played inspired football. At no time during the game did the Frogs threaten seriously to score. LaForge was taken from the game after his first run because Coach Thomson would take no chances against his not being able to play against Baylor this Saturday. However he went back in for a few minutes during the second half and soon broke away for a 35 yard run to score Arkansas' second touchdown.

LaForge was not the only Arkansas star in the game. The superb playing of Tom Murphy, quarterback, Jack Newby, center, and Bill Spivey, guard, was outstanding, but every man on the two teams which Thomson used, fought the Frogs all over the field.

PIGGY WIGGLY

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

Flour	48 Pound Sack	$1.65
Lard	8 Pounds—PURE	65c
Coffee	COUNTRY CLUB POUND	25c
Coffee	Pound 11c 3 Pounds	50c
MILK	THREE LARGE CANS COUNTRY CLUB	17c
BRAN FLAKES	COUNTRY CLUB—LARGE	10c
LETTUCE	FIRM HEAR—EACH	5c
OAT MEAL	COUNTRY CLUB—TWO SMALL	13c
COFFEE—Canova—lb		26c
POTATOES	RED TRIUMPH	10 lbs 25c
CABBAGE—Texas green, lb		3c
—HOPE'S MOST SANITARY MARKET—
Bologna	PARAFINE STICK POUND	10c
Oysters—pint	39c	Fish—lb 10c
STEAK	NICE AND TENDER	3 lbs 25c
SALT MEAT	BEST GRADE Cut From Side POUND	7 1/2c
CHILI—home made—lb		12 1/2c
CHEESE	Full Cream, lb...	16c
BEEF ROAST	Pound	7 1/2c
PICNIC
Hams	SUGAR CURED 6 to 8 Pound	7 1/2c
BOILED HAM—sliced thin, lb		25c
MINCE MEAT	BRANDY ADDED—Pound	17 1/2c

FORGOTTEN SWEETHEART

MARY RAYMOND

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

the best friend I had there. His arms dropped. "Well, now, it your way then. If I were just a little drunker I wouldn't have to you."

He started the car and Joan relaxed in her seat. The engine began jerking. Jim pulled out the choker and jammed it in again. The car moved along a few feet jerkily, then came to a standstill.

"No gas, Joan," Jim said slowly. "There's nothing to do but walk to the store and get some."

"I'll go with you," she said. They walked along in silence until they reached the curve in the road.

"Hello!" said Jim. "The lights are out in the store." He turned and looked at her, at the frail white slippers she wore and groaned.

"I'm all kinds of an idiot! We'll have to walk."

"How far is it?" asked Joan.

"Nearly three miles."

"Let's start." She spoke bravely, steadily. But she was thinking miserably, "This is what coming to the store for gas will do."

"Where's that good-looking fellow?" Fred sang out.

"With Jim on the porch probably."

"Not on the porch," said Barbara. "They drove off in Jim's car an hour ago."

"Probably went to the store for cigarettes. I know those old tricks of Jim's," said Carol easily.

"Or a coca cola," suggested Charlie Ross with a laugh.

"Or an aspirin," someone else offered cynically. "Jim probably needed one. He certainly didn't need any more liquid refreshment."

Rage burned in Bob's heart. To think of Joan going off with that jug-head, letting herself in for a lot of gossip and infernal speculation!

HE went out on the porch, staring down the black stretch of road toward the neighborhood store. He looked at his watch. It was one o'clock. A half hour later he looked at his watch again.

Some of the others came out on the porch. "I can't imagine what has happened to them," Carol was saying.

"We are being very silly," said Barbara. "Nothing's happened."

"They'll be coming in presently," Enid said.

"They always do," said Charlie in his tired, wise voice.

There were steps on the drive—a white blur in the darkness. And then, as the light from the porch reached out, a dark shadow beside the white.

Joan and Jim!

They came up on the porch. The gay girl of two hours before had vanished. Joan's hair, blown by the long walk in the wind, was in disorder. There were deep, weary shadows under her eyes. Her shoulders, under the man's coat, sagged forlornly.

Jim's face showed strain, too. His hair was rumpled. His eyes were bright and feverish. Searching the faces on the porch, he said contemptuously, "A royal reception. Don't say you were really alarmed about us!"

"The gas ran out," he added slowly. And then, as no one spoke, "Now, some darn fool laugh!"

"But evidently your liquor didn't." This from Charlie.

"Comedy isn't your role," Jim said.

"Nobody but a damn idiot would drive off without enough gas in his car," said Bob.

"Lay off, will you, Weston?" said Jim dangerously.

HOPE STAR AND DAILY PRESS, HOPE, ARKANSAS

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

RAZORBACKS MEET Baylor Saturday

Arkansas Has Good Chance to Capture Conference Title

By OREN M. STEPHENS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The strong Arkansas Razorbacks will play their second conference game in Little Rock Saturday against the Baylor University Bears of Waco, Texas.

Arkansas fans who saw the Razorbacks defeat the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University 13 to 0, at Fayetteville last Saturday, believe that Arkansas has excellent chances to win the Southwest conference championship this year for the first time.

Last year the Razorbacks surprised Southwest Conference critics by defeating the Bears in the annual Bear-Back game at Little Rock. This year the Razorbacks are much stronger than they were last year, and they are going against the Bears Saturday fully confident that they will win.

Baylor was defeated last Saturday by the Centenary Gentlemen of Shreveport 19 to 0, but this does not indicate that they will be a set-up for Arkansas, since Centenary has had one of the strongest teams in the South for the past two years. Coach Fred Thomson is taking his Razorbacks to Little Rock fully prepared for one of the hardest games of the year.

The Razorbacks were rated as the underdogs in the game with Baylor. Francis A. Schmidt's Horned Frogs, conference champions last year, but after Ralph LaForge returned the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown, the Razorbacks played inspired football. At no time during the game did the Frogs threaten seriously to score. LaForge was taken from the game after his first run because Coach Thomson would take no chances against his not being able to play against Baylor this Saturday. However he went back in for a few minutes during the second half and soon broke away for a 35 yard run to score Arkansas' second touchdown.

LaForge was not the only Arkansas star in the game. The superb playing of Tom Murphy, quarterback, Jack Newby, center, and Bill Spivey, guard, was outstanding, but every man on the two teams which Thomson used, fought the Frogs all over the field.

PIGGY WIGGLY

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

Flour	48 Pound Sack	$1.65
Lard	8 Pounds—PURE	65c
Coffee	COUNTRY CLUB POUND	25c
Coffee	Pound 11c 3 Pounds	50c
MILK	THREE LARGE CANS COUNTRY CLUB	17c
BRAN FLAKES	COUNTRY CLUB—LARGE	10c
LETTUCE	FIRM HEAR—EACH	5c
OAT MEAL	COUNTRY CLUB—TWO SMALL	13c
COFFEE—Canova—lb		26c
POTATOES	RED TRIUMPH	10 lbs 25c
CABBAGE—Texas green, lb		3c
—HOPE'S MOST SANITARY MARKET—
Bologna	PARAFINE STICK POUND	10c
Oysters—pint	39c	Fish—lb 10c
STEAK	NICE AND TENDER	3 lbs 25c
SALT MEAT	BEST GRADE Cut From Side POUND	7 1/2c
CHILI—home made—lb		12 1/2c
CHEESE	Full Cream, lb...	16c
BEEF ROAST	Pound	7 1/2c
PICNIC
Hams	SUGAR CURED 6 to 8 Pound	7 1/2c
BOILED HAM—sliced thin, lb		25c
MINCE MEAT	BRANDY ADDED—Pound	17 1/2c

FORGOTTEN SWEETHEART

MARY RAYMOND

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

the best friend I had there. His arms dropped. "Well, now, it your way then. If I were just a little drunker I wouldn't have to you."

He started the car and Joan relaxed in her seat. The engine began jerking. Jim pulled out the choker and jammed it in again. The car moved along a few feet jerkily, then came to a standstill.

"No gas, Joan," Jim said slowly. "There's nothing to do but walk to the store and get some."

"I'll go with you," she said. They walked along in silence until they reached the curve in the road.

"Hello!" said Jim. "The lights are out in the store." He turned and looked at her, at the frail white slippers she wore and groaned.

"I'm all kinds of an idiot! We'll have to walk."

"How far is it?" asked Joan.

"Nearly three miles."

"Let's start." She spoke bravely, steadily. But she was thinking miserably, "This is what coming to the store for gas will do."

"Where's that good-looking fellow?" Fred sang out.

"With Jim on the porch probably."

"Not on the porch," said Barbara. "They drove off in Jim's car an hour ago."

"Probably went to the store for cigarettes. I know those old tricks of Jim's," said Carol easily.

"Or a coca cola," suggested Charlie Ross with a laugh.

"Or an aspirin," someone else offered cynically. "Jim probably needed one. He certainly didn't need any more liquid refreshment."

Rage burned in Bob's heart. To think of Joan going off with that jug-head, letting herself in for a lot of gossip and infernal speculation!

HE went out on the porch, staring down the black stretch of road toward the neighborhood store. He looked at his watch. It was one o'clock. A half hour later he looked at his watch again.

Some of the others came out on the porch. "I can't imagine what has happened to them," Carol was saying.

"We are being very silly," said Barbara. "Nothing's happened."

"They'll be coming in presently," Enid said.

"They always do," said Charlie in his tired, wise voice.

There were steps on the drive—a white blur in the darkness. And then, as the light from the porch reached out, a dark shadow beside the white.

Joan and Jim!

They came up on the porch. The gay girl of two hours before had vanished. Joan's hair, blown by the long walk in the wind, was in disorder. There were deep, weary shadows under her eyes. Her shoulders, under the man's coat, sagged forlornly.

Jim's face showed strain, too. His hair was rumpled. His eyes were bright and feverish. Searching the faces on the porch, he said contemptuously, "A royal reception. Don't say you were really alarmed about us!"

"The gas ran out," he added slowly. And then, as no one spoke, "Now, some darn fool laugh!"

"But evidently your liquor didn't." This from Charlie.

"Comedy isn't your role," Jim said.

"Nobody but a damn idiot would drive off without enough gas in his car," said Bob.

"Lay off, will you, Weston?" said Jim dangerously.

LABOR FEDERATION Solidly for Green

Convention Refuses to Expand Executive Council

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The power of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted itself fully Wednesday as the national convention swept aside a well-organized move to enlarge the executive council.

By a vote of more than two to one the nearly 600 delegates voted down the proposal of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, to "add new blood" to the ruling council by making its membership 25 instead of eight.

This test of strength followed only a few hours after the convention had voted full support for the national recovery administration, but charged its officers to work through the NRA and congress for a 20-hour work week throughout industry.

Charges of "machine rule" and a warning that the rank and file of workers were demanding increased representation in the councils of labor rang through the hall as the debate raged over the Lewis resolution.

George L. Berry, president of the Pressmen's Union, and Charles P. Howard, president of the Typograph-

HOPE STAR AND DAILY PRESS, HOPE, ARKANSAS

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

RAZORBACKS MEET Baylor Saturday

Arkansas Has Good Chance to Capture Conference Title

By OREN M. STEPHENS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The strong Arkansas Razorbacks will play their second conference game in Little Rock Saturday against the Baylor University Bears of Waco, Texas.

Arkansas fans who saw the Razorbacks defeat the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University 13 to 0, at Fayetteville last Saturday, believe that Arkansas has excellent chances to win the Southwest conference championship this year for the first time.

Last year the Razorbacks surprised Southwest Conference critics by defeating the Bears in the annual Bear-Back game at Little Rock. This year the Razorbacks are much stronger than they were last year, and they are going against the Bears Saturday fully confident that they will win.

Baylor was defeated last Saturday by the Centenary Gentlemen of Shreveport 19 to 0, but this does not indicate that they will be a set-up for Arkansas, since Centenary has had one of the strongest teams in the South for the past two years. Coach Fred Thomson is taking his Razorbacks to Little Rock fully prepared for one of the hardest games of the year.

The Razorbacks were rated as the underdogs in the game with Baylor. Francis A. Schmidt's Horned Frogs, conference champions last year, but after Ralph LaForge returned the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown, the Razorbacks played inspired football. At no time during the game did the Frogs threaten seriously to score. LaForge was taken from the game after his first run because Coach Thomson would take no chances against his not being able to play against Baylor this Saturday. However he went back in for a few minutes during the second half and soon broke away for a 35 yard run to score Arkansas' second touchdown.

LaForge was not the only Arkansas star in the game. The superb playing of Tom Murphy, quarterback, Jack Newby, center, and Bill Spivey, guard, was outstanding, but every man on the two teams which Thomson used, fought the Frogs all over the field.

PIGGY WIGGLY

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

Flour	48 Pound Sack	$1.65
Lard	8 Pounds—PURE	65c
Coffee	COUNTRY CLUB POUND	25c
Coffee	Pound 11c 3 Pounds	50c
MILK	THREE LARGE CANS COUNTRY CLUB	17c
BRAN FLAKES	COUNTRY CLUB—LARGE	10c
LETTUCE	FIRM HEAR—EACH	5c
OAT MEAL	COUNTRY CLUB—TWO SMALL	13c
COFFEE—Canova—lb		26c
POTATOES	RED TRIUMPH	10 lbs 25c
CABBAGE—Texas green, lb		3c
—HOPE'S MOST SANITARY MARKET—
Bologna	PARAFINE STICK POUND	10c
Oysters—pint	39c	Fish—lb 10c
STEAK	NICE AND TENDER	3 lbs 25c
SALT MEAT	BEST GRADE Cut From Side POUND	7 1/2c
CHILI—home made—lb		12 1/2c
CHEESE	Full Cream, lb...	16c
BEEF ROAST	Pound	7 1/2c
PICNIC
Hams	SUGAR CURED 6 to 8 Pound	7 1/2c
BOILED HAM—sliced thin, lb		25c
MINCE MEAT	BRANDY ADDED—Pound	17 1/2c

FORGOTTEN SWEETHEART

MARY RAYMOND

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

the best friend I had there. His arms dropped. "Well, now, it your way then. If I were just a little drunker I wouldn't have to you."

He started the car and Joan relaxed in her seat. The engine began jerking. Jim pulled out the choker and jammed it in again. The car moved along a few feet jerkily, then came to a standstill.

"No gas, Joan," Jim said slowly. "There's nothing to do but walk to the store and get some."

"I'll go with you," she said. They walked along in silence until they reached the curve in the road.

"Hello!" said Jim. "The lights are out in the store." He turned and looked at her, at the frail white slippers she wore and groaned.

"I'm all kinds of an idiot! We'll have to walk."

"How far is it?" asked Joan.

"Nearly three miles."

"Let's start." She spoke bravely, steadily. But she was thinking miserably, "This is what coming to the store for gas will do."

"Where's that good-looking fellow?" Fred sang out.

"With Jim on the porch probably."

"Not on the porch," said Barbara. "They drove off in Jim's car an hour ago."

"Probably went to the store for cigarettes. I know those old tricks of Jim's," said Carol easily.

"Or a coca cola," suggested Charlie Ross with a laugh.

"Or an aspirin," someone else offered cynically. "Jim probably needed one. He certainly didn't need any more liquid refreshment."

Rage burned in Bob's heart. To think of Joan going off with that jug-head, letting herself in for a lot of gossip and infernal speculation!

HE went out on the porch, staring down the black stretch of road toward the neighborhood store. He looked at his watch. It was one o'clock. A half hour later he looked at his watch again.

Some of the others came out on the porch. "I can't imagine what has happened to them," Carol was saying.

"We are being very silly," said Barbara. "Nothing's happened."

"They'll be coming in presently," Enid said.

"They always do," said Charlie in his tired, wise voice.

There were steps on the drive—a white blur in the darkness. And then, as the light from the porch reached out, a dark shadow beside the white.

Joan and Jim!

They came up on the porch. The gay girl of two hours before had vanished. Joan's hair, blown by the long walk in the wind, was in disorder. There were deep, weary shadows under her eyes. Her shoulders, under the man's coat, sagged forlornly.

Jim's face showed strain, too. His hair was rumpled. His eyes were bright and feverish. Searching the faces on the porch, he said contemptuously, "A royal reception. Don't say you were really alarmed about us!"

"The gas ran out," he added slowly. And then, as no one spoke, "Now, some darn fool laugh!"

"But evidently your liquor didn't." This from Charlie.

"Comedy isn't your role," Jim said.

"Nobody but a damn idiot would drive off without enough gas in his car," said Bob.

"Lay off, will you, Weston?" said Jim dangerously.

HOPE STAR AND DAILY PRESS, HOPE, ARKANSAS

©1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

RAZORBACKS MEET Baylor Saturday

Arkansas Has Good Chance to Capture Conference Title

By OREN M. STEPHENS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The strong Arkansas Razorbacks will play their second conference game in Little Rock Saturday against the Baylor University Bears of Waco, Texas.

Arkansas fans who saw the Razorbacks defeat the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University 13 to 0, at Fayetteville last Saturday, believe that Arkansas has excellent chances to win the Southwest conference championship this year for the first time.

Last year the Razorbacks surprised Southwest Conference critics by defeating the Bears in the annual Bear-Back game at Little Rock. This year the Razorbacks are much stronger than they were last year, and they are going against the Bears Saturday fully confident that they will win.

Baylor was defeated last Saturday by the Centenary Gentlemen of Shreveport 19 to 0, but this does not indicate that they will be a set-up for Arkansas, since Centenary has had

W. C. FIELDS

Mrs. SID HENRY

TELEPHONE 321

Defeat may serve as well as victory to shake the soul and let the glory out. When the great oak is straining in the wind The boughs drink in new beauty and the trunk grows down a deeper root on the windward side. Only the soul that knows the mighty grief Can know the mighty rapture. Sorrows come To stretch out nights in the heart of joy.—Selected.

Mrs. P. B. Corum left Friday morning for a short visit in Albuquerque, N. M. before joining Mr. Corum in their home in Rawlins, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hamilton had as Friday guest, Mrs. D. W. Harris of Malvern.

Outstanding among the social affairs of the early fall season was the dinner party given on Thursday evening by Mrs. Kate Scott Holand and Mrs. E. F. McFadden at the McFadden home on North Hervey street. The guests were the members of the Hope Rotary club and their wives and a few special guests, who were escorted by Rotarians. For the occasion, the McFadden home so complete with its natural setting had an added beauty in the beautiful floral decorations with the dainty Queen's Wreath predominating. A most tempting dinner was served on small tables to about twenty couples, in costumes dating from 1900's to a most perfected interpretation of the present day styles. Attitudes were explored and the ingenuity of our most resourceful stylists was put to the test, with the result, of a bewildering array of antiques and mis-matched colors, causing much fun and meritment. Couples deserving special mention were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Cornelius, whose mode of conveyance to the party was considered the prize antique of the collection—a horse and buggy. Mrs. Carter Johnson's costume deserves special mention and many others too numerous to mention, but certainly helping to make the "Tacky Party" a memorable occasion. Following the dinner, games were played and a very pleasing feature was in a guessing contest showing photographs of those present, that had been made in former days.

Mrs. John P. Cox will return Friday night from a week's visit with her son, Lamar, in Dallas, Texas.

The Library hours have been changed from 2:30 to 5:30 on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, and it is urged that the patrons regard the above hours for the convenience of the Librarian in charge. A number of new books have been received in the library for grown ups and interesting aviation and football stories for boys. Temple Bailey's newest book, "The Enchanted Ground," in which she portrays the drama of the present day, following the boom days of Florida, with a young minister and a physician as two of her character pictures, giving their service through the slum. Miss Bishop by Best Streeter Aldrich, a very popular author has been added to the shelves. A Literary Guild book donated by Mr. and Mrs. G. J. MacGregor has been much appreciated and enjoyed. "The Master of Jaina" by Dela Roche follows closely upon her other outstanding books of the "White Oak" family. The library readers are not yet tired of such books as the "Magnificent Obsession," "Forgive Us Our Trespasses" by Douglas and "The Fountain" by Charles Morgan and Pearl Buck's latest books. Do not get behind with your reading, when you can obtain a membership to the Hope Library for such a small amount.

By special request of her many friends in Hope, Mrs. Shirley Thurman will repeat her broadcast "Going to the Circus" over KWKH on Saturday evening from 9:30 to 9:45.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Marks Episcopal church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. J. T. West on Division street.

Mrs. C. E. Baker, Mrs. H. M. Valentine and Mrs. C. T. Floyd have returned from a short motor trip to Shreveport.

Word was received here Friday of the announcement of the marriage of Miss Geneva Thomas, formerly of Prescott, now of Fort Worth, Texas, and Robert H. W. Allen of this city. The ceremony took place in Texarkana, Texas, September 5th, at the home of the Rev. F. Z. Browne, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Texarkana. At present the young couple are in Fort Worth, Texas.

SAENGER

W. C. FIELDS
Alison Skipworth
Baby Letty
"TILLIE & GUS"

thrills and action don't miss this program for

SATURDAY

KING OF THE ARENA

KEN MAYNARD

Preview Saturday Night at 11 p. m.

Showing Sun-Mon. too.

A Paramount Picture with BING CROSBY
and JACK OAKIE
SKEETS GALLAGHER
Judith Allen Harry Green
Lilyan Tashman Ned Sparks

Russell Circus to Show Here Oct. 23

Three-Ring Company Will Appear in Hope Week From Monday

The ever alluring circus will exhibit in Hope Monday-October 23. Russell Bros', three-ring circus is new in this particular section but it is well known in other parts of the state. It has been established six years and apparently has more than made good.

There is something about the circus that appeals to all classes and conditions of people. Just as baseball is the national game so is the circus the national amusement of this country. Most every country on the globe has its form of circus entertainment, but in no country is there the magnitude nor the variety in the circus that there is in this country.

The Russell Bros. are modest in their claims but apparently truthful. They do not profess to have the largest in the world, but they do claim to present a strictly moral, high class and pleasing show. They require three rings and a hippodrome track for its production and have much more going on at one time than it is possible for a person to see.

Among the scores of features and surprises offered by Russell's, there is one star who boasts of his age. "Generally the public acclaims the youth, but in this case the performer is seventy-six years of age and has been a circus performer for more than fifty years—yet today he performs as difficult feats of contortion both on the ground and on the trapeze, as a young person could perform. Light living, correct temperate habits and out-door life are the reasons assigned by Daddy Whitlock for his unusual physical condition after he has passed the three score years and ten age.

There will be plenty of pretty women, athletic youths, beautiful horses, cute ponies, lively dogs, funny clowns, trained animals and inspiring music to be seen here when Russell Bros. three-ring circus exhibits in Hope Monday, October 23.

HOW TEMPERANCE

(Continued from Page One)

have a range in alcoholic content up include whiskey and gin, usually contain from 30 per cent to 45 per cent of alcohol.

The distilled liquors are thus seen to be in a class by themselves, with an alcoholic strength far in excess of wines and beers. This difference should be made the basis of a radical difference in treatment under the law. It is true that even the heaviest spirits may be consumed in such moderation as to avoid injurious consequences, and that it is possible to over-indulge in wine or beer. But the experience and common sense of mankind have always recognized the difference between the two—if legislators have not.

No one will deny that whiskey and gin are more intoxicating than beer and wine. The argument for treating both classes of beverages alike in the past has been that the beer drinker of today becomes the whiskey sot of tomorrow. There may be danger that this will occur if 3.2 per cent beer can be sold only over the same bar and subject to the same conditions as whiskey.

Since there is a greater profit in whiskey, the bar-keeper is under a constant temptation to push its sale. But we find no definite evidence to support the theory that satisfying a taste for beer develops a craving for whiskey. On the contrary, we believe that if beers and wines are more easily obtainable than distilled liquors, and are sold in different places and under different conditions, there is reasonable ground to expect that the taste of those who wish to drink will be diverted to the lighter and less harmful beverages.

Beer and Temperance Every consideration of social control suggests the frank acceptance and treatment of beer containing no more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol as a non-intoxicating beverage. While this line may not be drawn with strict scientific accuracy, it has been popularly accepted as a result of the Act of Congress of March 22, 1933, permitting the sale of 3.2 per cent beer. Since that date the nation has been a laboratory in which a remarkable experiment has been tried. During this time such beer was sold, even in populous centers like New York City, with little restraint. For some weeks it was obtainable like ice cream at any soda fountain. It has been drunk in enormous quantities. Yet the testimony is almost unanimous that there has been no increase in drunkenness, no disorder, no increased resort to illicit hard liquor. The evidence, as we have found it, is all the other way. Bootleggers have lost part of their patronage; in some places arrests for drunkenness have positively declined.

The continued, unrestricted sale of beer having an alcoholic content of not more than 3.2 per cent is clearly the part of wisdom. Such beer should be obtainable by the bottle, for off-premises consumption, practically without limitation. Its sale should be allowed by grocery stores, drug stores, delicatessens and general stores, and indeed by any merchant who so desires.

A vendor's permit should be required, but the cost should be low, and there should be no restriction on the number of such permits. The sale of such beer by the glass, with or without meals, should be permitted in restaurants, hotels, beer gardens, clubs, or indeed in any reputable establishment.

Wines—naturally fermented—not in excess of 10 to 12 per cent, should be sold by the bottle for off-premises consumption as freely as 3.2 per cent beer. But as compared with 3.2 per cent beer, a greater measure of restriction should govern the sale of wine for on-premises consumption. No wine should be sold by the glass only with meals. It follows that the sale of wine for on-premises consumption should be restricted to bona fide restaurants, dining rooms and clubs.

Classifications of Permits In summary, we recommend that the following classification of permits for the sale of 3.2 per cent beer and wines be adopted:

A. Permits to sell 3.2 per cent beer and naturally-fermented wines not in excess of 10 per cent to 12 per cent by the bottle for off-premises consumption.

B. Permits to sell 3.2 per cent beer for on-premises consumption with or without meals.

C. Permits for sale of 3.2 per cent beer and natural wines at hotels, restaurants or clubs for consumption on the premises with meals.

To many people this liberal policy in relation to the control of beers and wines may seem a betrayal of the cause of temperance. With them no compromise with liquor in any form is possible, and the world they desire is a world in which alcoholic beverages are not consumed at all.

Today we are confronted with practical realities. It is not a question of the kind of world we might prefer; it is a question of what we can achieve in the kind of world we have. It is a question of human tastes and appetites which, as we have discovered, cannot be eliminated by statute.

In our opinion, there is but one major proposition to be faced in relation to alcohol: Granting that millions of our people will not drink at all, how can the cause of temperance best be served among those who choose to drink?

The Review Board

"However, recognizing that in certain cases there might be merit notwithstanding that the veteran could not produce evidence which would meet the exact requirements of the regulations, the president proposed, and it was finally decided by law, to establish Special Boards of Review, a majority of which were to be composed of outstanding citizens not in the employ of the Veterans Administration. The purpose of the establishment of these boards was to insure to all veterans whose disabilities had heretofore been presumptively con-discharge from service and through a conclusive presumption of soundness at enlistment.

"Feeling that the principles contained in the regulations issued by him were correct and knowing that they received support of physicians of the highest repute, the president did not feel justified in abandoning them.

HARRY J. LEMLEY
(Continued from Page One)

discharge from service and through a conclusive presumption of soundness at enlistment.

Feeling that the principles contained in the regulations issued by him were correct and knowing that they received support of physicians of the highest repute, the president did not feel justified in abandoning them.

needed with service a special review of their claims to the end that if, because of the stress of service brought about particularly by actual combat or other strenuous duty, there might reasonably be some connection between their condition and their military service that their pensions should be continued.

"As a member of one of these Special Boards, it is, therefore, your duty to weigh carefully all of the evidence, using as a guiding principle the provisions of veterans regulations."

THREE LEADERS OF

(Continued from page one)

entered.

"Don't start shooting unless they do," Floyd ordered his companions as they backed out of the restaurant. There was no shooting.

Floyd, now the nation's current "worst bad man," grew up as a farm boy near Sallisaw, Okla., robbed the local postoffice of $350 in pennies at the age of 16, skipped town, was sentenced to a payroll robbery in St. Louis, and took his post-graduate course in crime from hardened outlaws in the Missouri state penitentiary where he served from 1924 to 1929.

Upon his release, he became a bank robber and proceeded to spread terror throughout the southwest. Once he fled to Ohio, robbed a bank at Akron, figured in the murder of an Akron policeman, and was sentenced to twenty-five years in prison. But he never served a day; en route to the penitentiary, he dived head-first through the window of a moving train and escaped.

Cornered by two officers in Kansas City, Floyd snatched a gun from one of them, shot him dead, and shot a Good For Biliousness "I decided to take Theodor's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. I get awfully dizzy. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling."

666 Liquid, Tablets, Salve, Nose Drops Checks Malaria in 3 days, Colds first day, Headaches or Neuralgia in 30 minutes. FINE LAXATIVE AND TONIC Most Speedy Remedies Known.

When the raiders later stormed the policeman in the neck as he ran from the house.

Trapped on a visit to his wife and small son by an Oklahoma constable, hiding behind a chicken house, he shot this officer dead.

Chief Aide Is Killed With George Birdwell as his chief lieutenant, Floyd staged a series of daring bank robberies, Floyd lining tellers and bank officials against the wall with a machine gun while Birdwell looted the vaults. This partnership came to an end when Birdwell was killed in a bank robbery at Boley, Okla., last November, but Floyd found a new lieutenant and continued.

This "phantom bandit," for whom there is a standing reward of $6000 for his capture, dead or alive, apparently tries to finge his criminal career with Robin Hood romanticism. He has boasted that he never has robbed anybody but the rich, and has given freely to the poor.

Believed to be a member of Floyd's present band is Wilbur Underhill, desperate killer who, with Harvey Bailey, led the daring break of eleven convicts from the Kansas penitentiary last May.

Eight Notches on Gun Underhill, sentenced for the murder of a Wichita policeman, is said to have eight murders on his record. It was he who insisted on killing the prison warden whom the convicts had kidnapped in their successful dash for liberty; it was Bailey who interceded and effected the warden's release in the remote Oklahoma hills two days after the break.

A veteran criminal and bank robber, Underhill once served a five-year term in the Missouri penitentiary. At the same time, his three brothers—Charles, Earl, and George—also were serving sentences there for separate robberies.

One of Underhill's most recent brushes with the law came in Oklahoma City a few weeks ago. He eluded a raiding party of seventy-five state, city, and federal officers by disguising himself as a woman and calmly walking out of a house they had surrounded.

When the raiders later stormed the Family Washing Fully Finished

10c Per Pound

NELSON HUCKINS

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

house behind a tear gas barrage, they captured two other bank robbers and found an arsenal of machine guns and ammunition.

Ex-Sheriff Turns Outlaw Verne Miller, also in the triumvirate of badly wanted criminals, learned to operate a machine gun while in the army. After the war he was elected sheriff at Hupon, S. D., and was widely known for his skill with firearms and as a fearless officer.

He was convicted of embezzling funds while in office and sentenced to the penitentiary. Emerging, he turned outlaw and teamed up with Harvey Bailey, as a bank robber.

Under the name of "V. C. Moore," Miller for a long time maintained a home in a high-class residential section of Kansas City.

On the morning of the Kansas City massacre, this house was vacated so hurriedly that the occupants did not even stop to lower the windows.

Miller has not been seen since, but the government feels sure that, sooner or later, its net will close upon him and "Pretty Boy" Floyd and Wilbur Underhill as well.

The End

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

WE DO OUR PART

Marla Stephens. An address on parent-teachers associations, by Miss Mary Leslie. "School of yesterday and a tribute to the teacher of that day," by Mrs. Herbert M. Stephens. "The School in my Day," by M. L. Nelson, member of the Elvins school board.

Reading (Cuddy) by Miss Blanche Brown.

"The three R's of education and the seven objectives of modern education," by Mrs. Ruth Garland. "What is Education," by Glen Coker, principal of Elvins High School. Reports from various committees were read and approved.

Yerger High School to Meet Texarkana

Yerger negro high school will open the football season at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon with a game on the local field against Washington high school of Texarkana. Texarkana has played one game thus far, wopping a 13-to-0 decision to Arkadelphia.

Too Late to Classify FOR SALE—Gas heaters and ranges. Harry W. Shiver. Phone 259. Plumbing and Electrical appliances. 13-2c

N. H. HALL of Memphis

Who Is He?

HORIZONTAL

1 Who is the man in the picture?

2 To solicit in marriage.

3 Bird songster.

4 To drink dog-fashion.

5 Small body of land.

6 Union of three.

7 Local position.

8 Requires.

9 Eye tumor.

10 Senior.

11 Perched.

12 Female of the fallow deer.

13 Street (abbr.).

14 Mine.

15 You and I.

16 Therefore.

17 English money.

18 Mover's truck.

19 To wash lightly.

20 Rolls of film.

21 Falsehoods.

22 Inhabitant of Denmark.

23 In the (style).

Answer to Previous Puzzle

the House of 15 Human beings.

17 Kind of cheese.

19 Black hawk.

21 Fashions.

23 What is the first name of the pictured man?

27 Quavering.

30 He is reputed to be the world's best.

VERTICAL

1 To act as a model.

2 Parts in a drama.

3 Northwest.

4 Puss.

5 Makes a mistake.

6 Death notice.

7 To skin.

8 Married.

9 Measure of area.

10 To ignore.

11 To surfeit.

12 He belongs to.

13 Imbecile.

14 Place where a trial is held.

15 Ocean.

16 Organ of hearing.

17 Monkey.

18 To prate.

19 To soak flax.

20 Either.

21 To have on.

22 Unless.

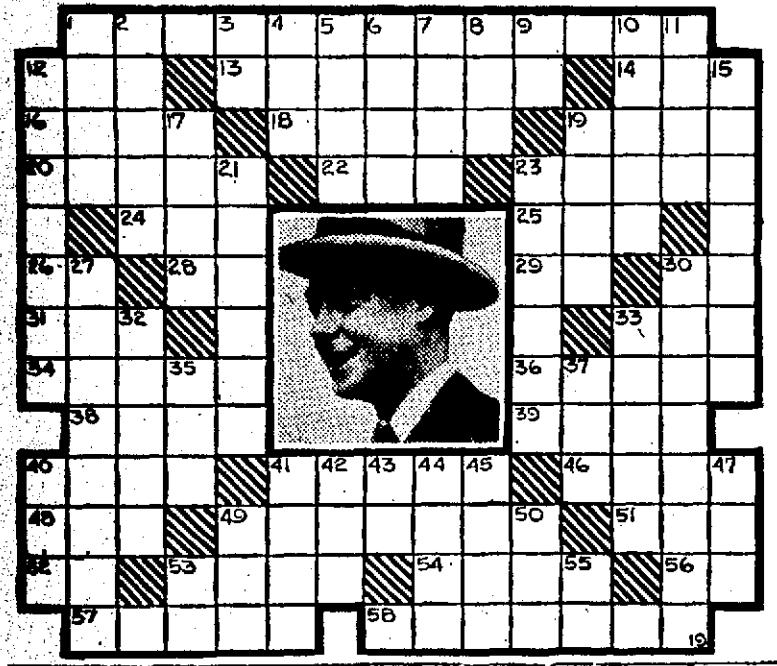

23 Cabin.

24 Afternoon meal.

25 Mesh of lace.

26 Myself.

27 Lava.

Rent It! Find It!
Buy It! Sell It!

HOPE STAR WANT ADS

The more you tell, the quicker you sell.
1 insertion, 10c per line minimum 30c.
These rates for consecutive insertions:
2 insertions, 6c per line minimum 50c.
3 insertions, 5c per line minimum 50c.
25 insertions, 4c per line minimum $3.12.
(Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE—Want advertisements accepted over the telephone may be charged with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 758

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—We have the Josey Homes consisting of two 6 room stucco houses, a full quarter of block, in heart of city, for sale at a great sacrifice in order to close up an estate.
BRIDEWELL & TAYLOR

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Grist mill, crusher and 10 hp. gas motor, 1 H. Beauchamp. Blevins, Ark. 13-6tc

FOR SALE: Trusses fitted by experienced fitters. Just received shipment of fresh complete stock. Crescent Drug Store. 12-6tc

FOR SALE—Several good young mules from three years up. Or will trade. Phone 408. D. B. Russell. 12-3p

NOTICE

Glass! Hope Bldg. Material Co. 30

WANTED

Paint! Hope Bldg. Material Co. 30

WANTED—Married couple, not under 50, to live on farm. If you have cattle or team bring them along. Call at Hope Star. 10-6t-p

Shingles! Hope Bldg. Material Co. 30

WANTED—White woman to do house work, must be good cook. Between age of 25 and 40. Phone 411W. 11-3tp

SALE OR TRADE

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Packard DeLuxe eight convertible coupe, 6 wheels, new rubber, perfect condition. Sacrifice. A. W. Biorseth. Route 5, Hope-Emmett road. 11-3tp

WE'RE CARRYING OUR END!

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

THE PERFECT GUM

Hope Boy on Honor Roll at Magnolia

Robert Turner Well Up on List of 41 Best Students

MAGNOLIA, Ark.—A freshman girl lead the 41 students on the Magnolia A. & M. college honor roll for the first four weeks period, it has been announced from the dean's office. Hattie Laura White of Ogemaw made the highest grade average with Jewell Alcorn, a sophomore of Magnolia, making a close second record. Sixteen of those on the roll were freshmen and 25 sophomores; 21 were girls and 19 boys.

Others on the roll were: Marion Barnes and Norville Galbraith, Junction City; Robert Turner, Hope; Ray Tutt, Camden; Jack Letcher, Nashville; Corrine Beasley, Carl; Benson, Garth English, Francine Stokes, and James Watkins, Waldo; Wanda Bratton, Robert Huddleston, Allie Smith, Janet Rowe, and Ona Lee Stinson, Ashdown; Paul Bustin, Alton Jameson, Mary Kennedy, Mary Louise Oakes, and Carolyn Prator, Magnolia; Powell Dixon, Mt. Olive; James Dunn, Foreman; Maurice Griffin, Wesson; Frances Hargrove, Lockesburg; Hugh Hill and Eugene Moore, Texarkana; Rector Hooper, Rosie; Natalie Hudson, and Louise Tilley, Norphlet; Elizabeth Hughes, New Boston, Texas; Lola Hunt, Bastrop, La.; Sarah Louise Kiley, Felsenthal; Beckman, Stamps; Eugenia Reynolds; El Dorado; Stuart Tribble, Stephens; Louise Wright, Sparkman; and Dick Wylie Carthage.

Bronchial Troubles

Need Creomulsion

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion. (adv.)

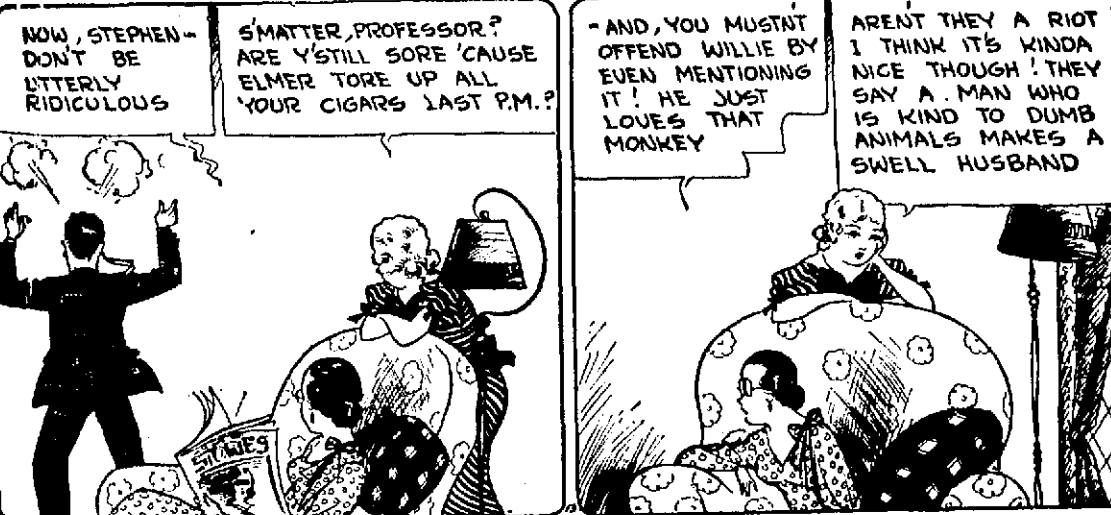

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By AHERN

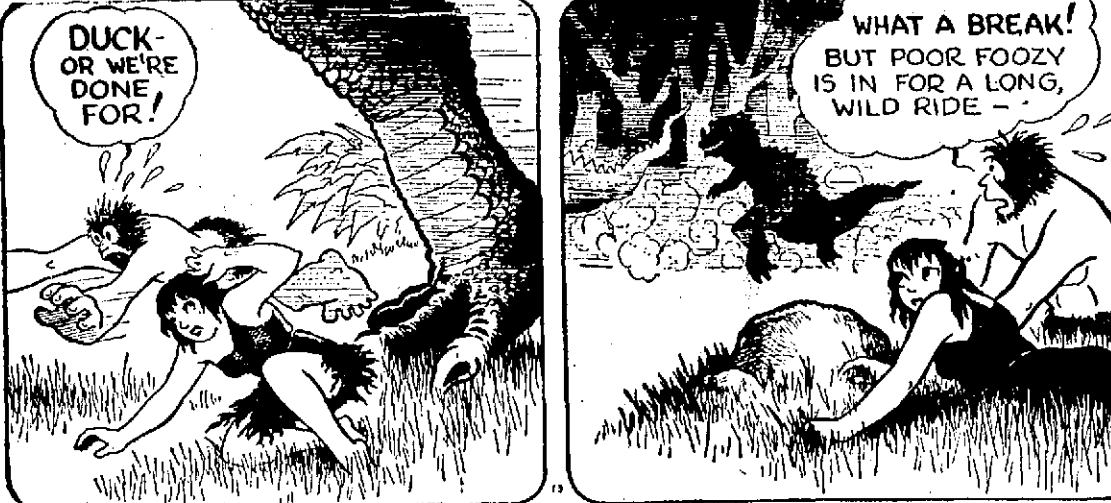

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Steve Talks Out of Turn!

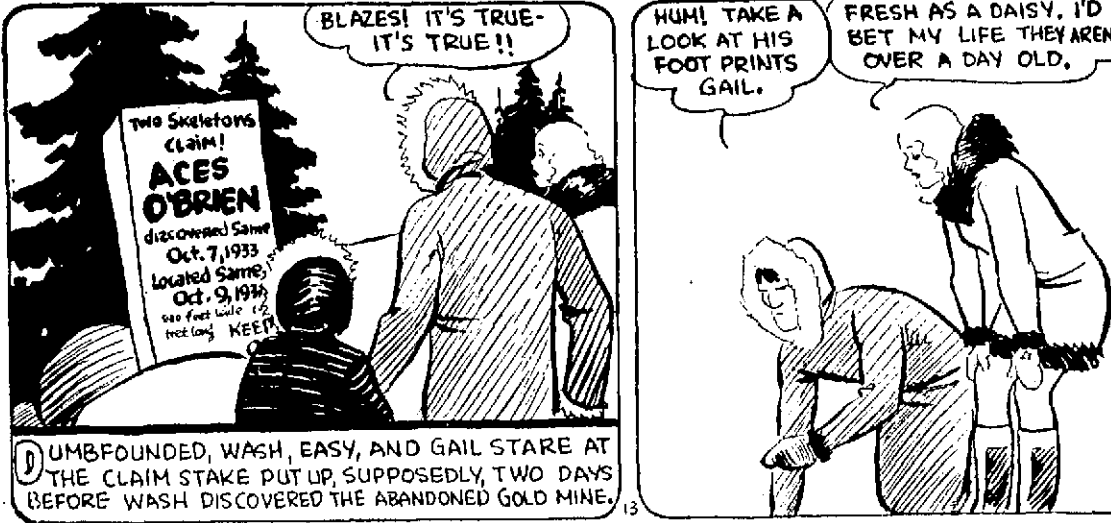

ALLEY OOP

Just Like a Woman!

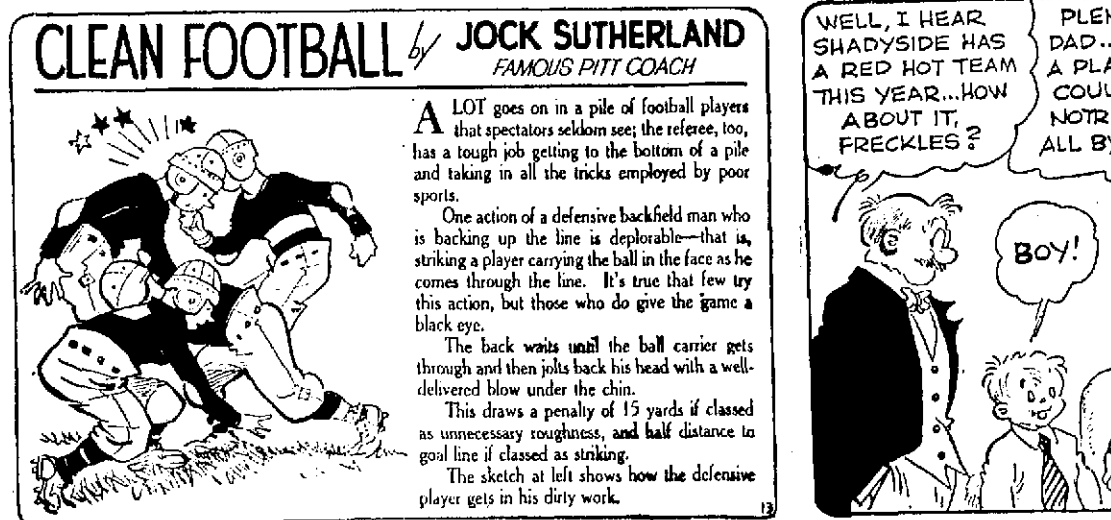

WASH TUBS

Easy Gets Mad!

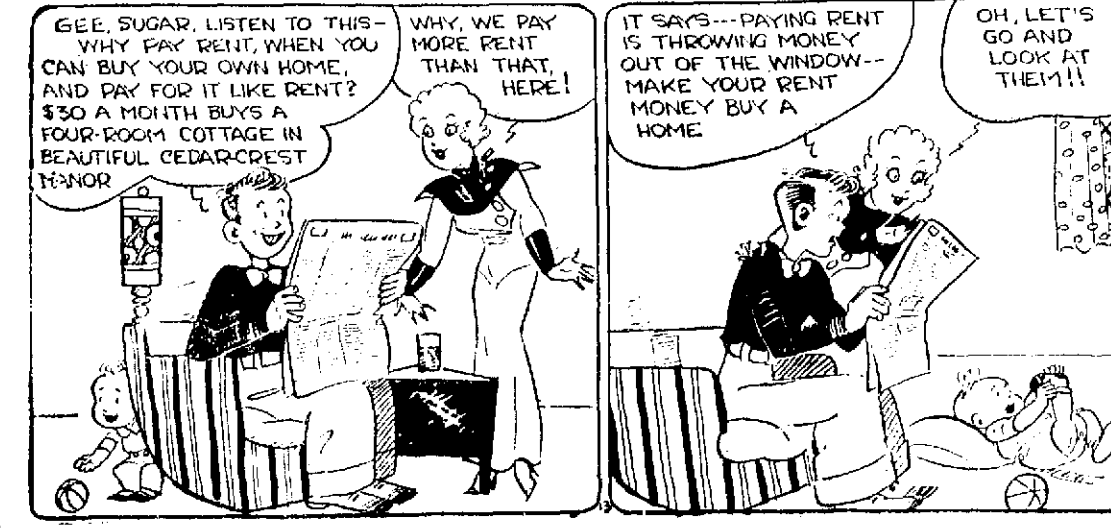

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Freckles Predicts Big Things!

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

Chick and Gladys Get a Hunch!

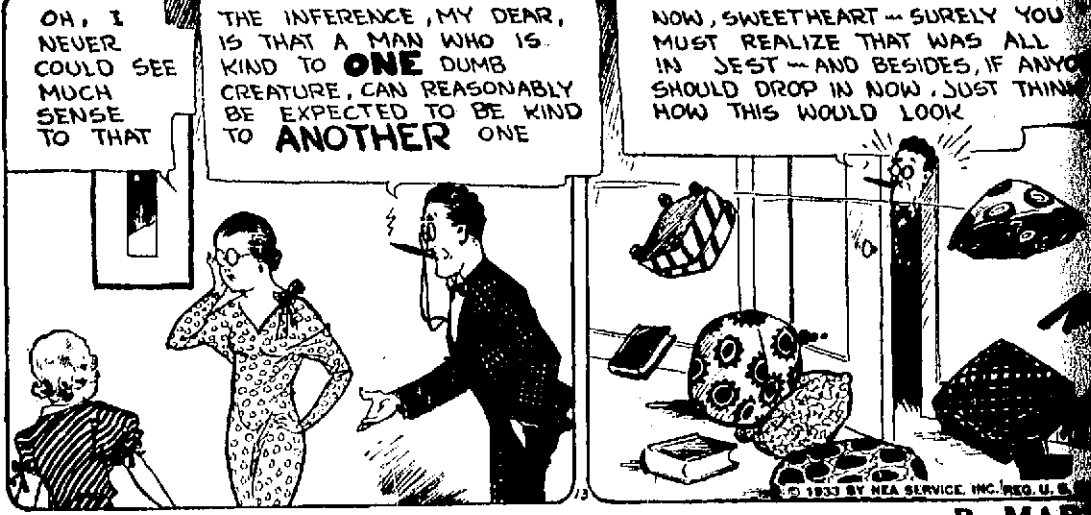

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAM

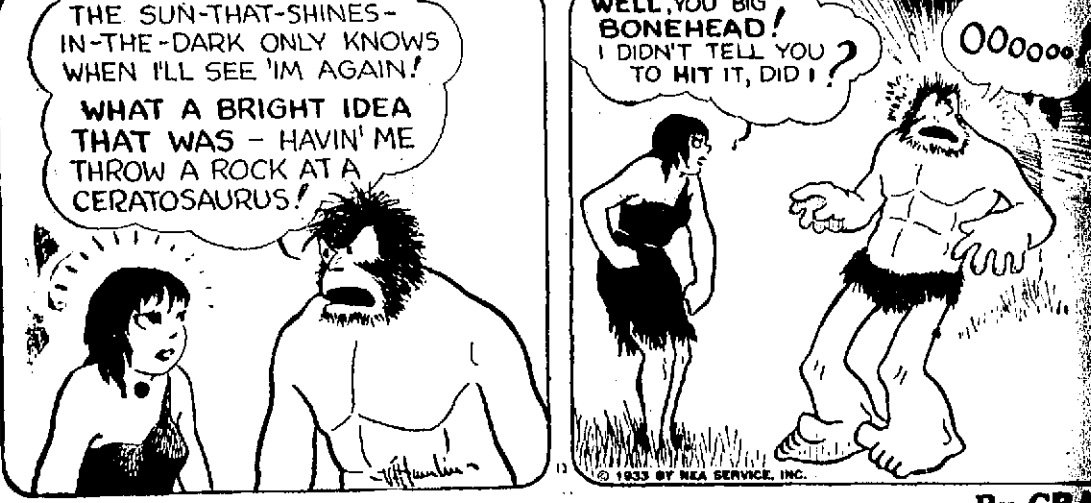

REST FOR THE WEARY.

By HAN

THE SUN-THAT-SHINES

Well, you big bonehead!

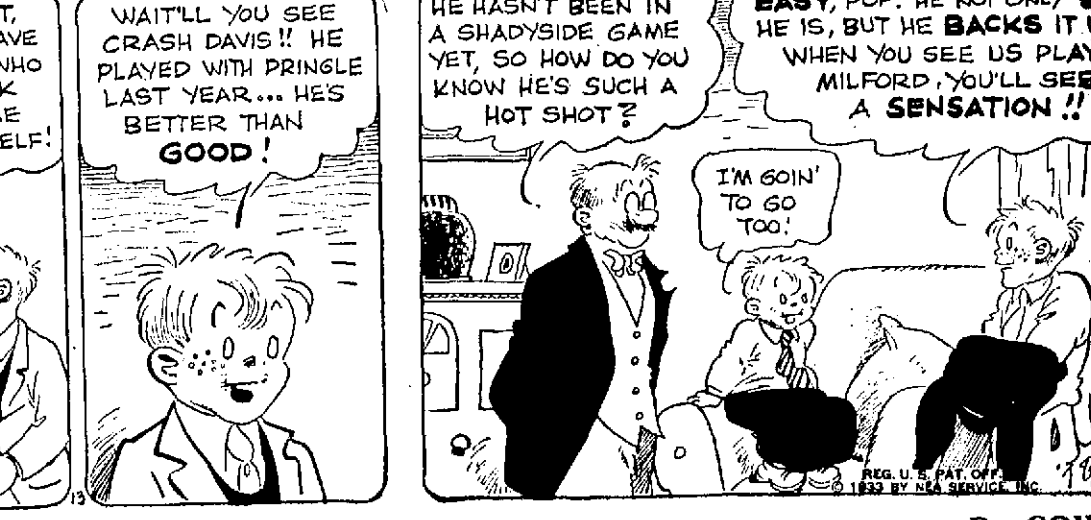

EXACTLY!! THAT BLANKETY BLANKED

By CRANE

GOING TO LET A TWO-BY-FOUR

By BLOSSER

GOING TO LET A TWO-BY-FOUR

By COWAN

